Meeting Opened 7.30 pm

The meeting was dedicated to updates on learning from home and impacts of COVID on school activities and provided an opportunity for parents and carers to ask questions.

P&C President, Noelle Phegan

Key points

- Thanks to the School and Staff for their dedication and hard work in supporting students as they work from home.
- A reminder that parents and carers should remember to look after themselves and set realistic expectations.
- The P&C appreciates the challenges that everyone is facing and would like to reiterate that parents and carers can reach out to the P&C for assistance.
- The P&C is cancelling a range of fund raising events, including the Comedy Night. Refunds for the Comedy Night are currently being progressed. The P&C is discussing with donors of prizes for the auction, whether these can be held over to another event.
- Many thanks to Dimity Thompson for her ongoing hard work in reorganising fund raising events

Randwick Public School Principal, Susan Allen

Key points

- The School will keep parents and carers informed as soon as information is available about return to school dates and processes.
- If there are challenges, issues or other queries you have about home learning or accessing materials, it is important that in the first instance you contact your child's class teacher.
- Teachers are using a variety of methods to provide feedback to students and keep them engaged.
- The teachers are developing online programs for the students, such as the Bursting Watermelon experiment.
- Assessments will take place over the remainder of Term 3. These will be online and should be completed independently by the student – this is the best way for teachers to understand where a student needs further development and their areas of excellence.
